

Event Celebrates Unity of Art Metal and Steuben Glass

Carder Steuben Glass collectors and admirers will join with craftsmen and collectors of decorative metal art for a special symposium in September to be presented by the Carder Steuben Club. The event will showcase the artistry achieved by early 20th century metal craftsmen who combined their pieces with Carder Steuben glass.

"Shared Desires: A Unity of Glass and Metal" will take place September 13 - 15 at the Corning Museum of Glass in Corning, New York. The symposium will explore the artistry and history of pieces created by Devillbis perfumes, Roycroft Copper craftsmen, Crest Lamps, FrankArt, Art Lamp, Oscar Bach and others.

"Besides the sheer pleasure of seeing this remarkable artistry, those who attend will learn how to identify pieces that incorporate Steuben Glass, and they are invited to bring their own pieces for our experts to see," notes Alan Shovers, Carder Steuben Club president. "Some collectors of decorative metal art might not even be aware that their pieces include Steuben Glass. And those pieces that do are a real treasure."

Cost to attend the symposium will be $172.50 for Carder Steuben Club members and $197.50 for Club non-members.
